3. Ejercicio de Lectura

Quizás pienses que este sea uno de los ejercicios de gerundios e infinitivos en inglés más complicados que te damos en esta entrada, pero solo debes leer la carta completa y usar el sentido de las oraciones para determinar la forma del verbo que debe ir en los espacios en blanco.

Hey Paul,

I'm writing (1.) _____ that I'm going to visit you and your family next month. I know that (2.) _____ by plane would be the best option. However, you know I'm afraid of (3.) _____, so I'll take the train. It will be a 2-day ride, but I'm pretty sure it'll be worth it. It'll be amazing (4.) _____ you and Rachel after 7 years.

I want (5.) _____ to all the sights in London. I have heard that the food there is not the best, but I'll give it a try. We can go to the nicest disco because I still remember that you and your wife enjoy (6.) _____ a lot. Now that I know how (7.) _____ (Surprising, right?), I'll cook German and Spanish dishes for you.

As you can see, I am excited about (8.) _____ to London for the first time. I can't wait...

See you next month.

En español:

Hola Paul,

Te escribo para decirte que te visitaré a ti y a tu familia el próximo mes. Sé que viajar en avión sería la mejor opción. Sin embargo, sabes que tengo miedo a volar, así que tomaré el tren. Será un viaje de 2 días, pero estoy seguro de que valdrá la pena. Será increíble encontrarme contigo y Rachel después de 7 años.

Quiero ir a todos los sitios turísticos en Londres. He oído que la comida allí no es la mejor, pero voy a darle una oportunidad. Podemos ir a la mejor discoteca porque todavía recuerdo que tú y tu esposa disfrutaban bailar mucho. Ahora que sé cocinar (Sorprendente, ¿no?), cocinaré platos alemanes y españoles para ustedes.

Como puedes ver, estoy emocionado de ir a Londres por primera vez. No puedo esperar...

Te veo el mes que viene.

Andrés
